HHP Law Firm.

Ponti Partogi is Head of the Tax and Customs Practice Group at HHP Law Firm. He has been practicing for more than 20 years.

Professional experience

Practice Focus

Ponti's practice focuses on domestic and international tax and trade issues relating to inbound and outbound investment and cross-border corporate exercises including JVs, M&As, divestitures, spin-offs and takeovers.

His combined legal and accounting background allows him to provide comprehensive tax advice on various transactions both from the legal and the accounting perspective.

Ponti is also a seasoned tax litigator who has been assisting clients on matters relating to tax disputes and controversies, transfer pricing, tax credits, double tax treaties, withholding tax, VAT and tax incentives. He has been successfully represented clients from various industries and lines of businesses, including natural resources, manufacturing and trading and services, in their tax litigation processes at the Tax Court and the Supreme Court, several of which have become key landmark cases in Indonesia.
